Custard Apple Days

By LAWRENCE E. (Okelanta) WILL

Welcome To Sand Point

Clewiston is a nice friendly town. Those are right clever folks there. They most generally always make you feel like they are right proud of you. There was one time, though, when I wasn't made so welcome, and that was the first time I ever went there. That was about in 1915. Some of us young bucks in Okelanta got weary of a diet of dried beans and rice and catfish and got to thinking that some fresh meat would be mighty fitting. Old Dave Hethington, a Glades trapper, who had spent all his life hunting in the woods in Canada and Alaska, had a big launch and a stevedore. He said there were plenty of wild hogs at Sand Point and he would be too glad to take us there.

Well, we took off up the canal and across the lake to Sand Point, which, by the way is where Clewiston is now. Just east of the point, about where the U. S. Engineers have their headquarters, there was a big protected cove where we anchored. It was late in the day so we set about making a camp. Between the water and the custard apple swamp was a wide area left when the lake had gone down. It was covered with moonvines which hid cracks in the dried out mud that you could step into up to your knees. About half way up this muck beach was an abandoned fish runboat. We took the hatch covers off and carried them back into the woods a piece to get out of the wind, for that breeze was coming straight off the frozen peach orchards of Georgia. It was so cold that we didn't sleep much, which was just as well, since we intended to lay in wait where the hog trails came down to the lake, so as to surprise those porkers when they came for an early drink of water. There were plenty of trails too, big as the Dixie Highway, but the hogs just weren't thirsty that morning. When it got good and light we separated and followed the trails back into the woods. As we went, the regular branching off, getting smaller and smaller and pretty soon, bless Pete, there were no trails and we were lost in the woods. Of course, as you know, those custard apples were covered so thick with moonvines that even on a clear day it was hard to see the sun, but now it was so dark and cloudy and the trees were so thick we couldn't even feel the wind. We heard a shot and found that Dave had killed a big sow. With a stick in her teeth, two of us dragged the sow, one carried the liver and another the gun. We walked and walked and walked. That sow kept getting heavier. Finally Dave found a cypress that could be climbed. "Turn around boys!" he shouted down, "We're headed for the sawgrass!" And so we walked some more. When we reached the shore the morning was about spent. And up to us. We went back to the launch deciding to try a better place. About a mile further, opposite where the main part of town is now, we anchored again and rowed toward shore. There was nothing to be seen as far as you could look in either direction excepting woods. Not a house, not a shack, I don't believe there was even a skinning bench in the lake.

We got close to shore. There was a small boat in the water. A man stepped out from the trees. His pants were rolled up fisherman style, an old black hat was pulled down over his eyes. In the crook of his arm was a rifle.

"What do you all want here?" he shouted.

"We thought we would do a little hunting." He seemed to be a man of few words, and his rifle in our direction, he declared, "Not here you won't!"

"Yes SIR!" we agreed, as we about faced for Okelanta.

And that damned old moonvine sow was so strong we couldn't even eat the meat either.

New Look Evident In Post Office!

An indication of change of attitude of postal employees is evident in the report of Postmaster General Summerfield that "postal employees were paid $66,901 in cash awards during the fiscal year, for ideas resulting in service improvements or operating economies."

Also, "in the year ended June 30 alone, employees suggestions nearly equalled the total number received during the 10 years preceding '54." The Republican Postmaster General evidences real human feeling outside the "regulations", and consideration for the public when he says, "essential window service in postoffices should be made available earlier and or later in the day than now."

"I want the new postage rates which are certainly long overdue (to say nothing of the salary raises to employees) to signal the beginning of the greatest period of postal progress in American history," the PM G says.

Thanks Mr. Summerfield for "them kind words" - the public needs that change of attitude and less bureaucratic reference to the "regulations" with more consideration for the public.

Self Employed Benefit Thru Rogers' Efforts

Congressman Paul G. Rogers announced from his office in Washington today that the House of Representatives has passed H. R. 10, the Jenkins-Keogh bill, which will permit self-employed individuals to take a deduction for a limited amount of investment in certain types of retirement annuity, or a specific type of retirement trust.

This bill will help straighten out the inequalities under the present tax set-up where an employee is receiving this type of tax treatment, but the self-employed does not. Company officials and employees receive benefits from retirement plans which are not counted as income until the money is actually drawn out, and the company

The Nation's first forest conservation stamp goes on sale October 27 at Tucson, Arizona during the annual meeting of the American Forestry Association.

The issue was designed by the Post Office Department to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the birth of Theodore Roosevelt, one of this country's earliest forest conservationists, and to salute the many private and public agencies whose cooperation has helped make possible the progress in forest conservation.

First-day mailings will be cancelled with the above design featuring the Smokey Bear and the Keep America Green forest fire prevention programs.

counts their contributions to the funds as expenses at the time they pay into the fund. The small businessman, farmer, and professional man now has to save at great disadvantage," Mr. Rogers stated, "since income put into savings for retirement is taxable at a higher rate during peak income years, rather than later in life when income is naturally reduced."

In his address before the House today, Congressman Rogers reminded the members that this tax relief would affect ten million Americans. "We will enable them to have the same advantages in later life that employees now receive," Mr. Rogers said, "and this measure will entitle our belief in the free enterprise system by removing the present disadvantage of the independent businessman finds himself in regarding savings for retirement."

The bill was adopted by the House and sent to the Senate for action by that Chamber.

Old-Age Pensioners Told "Don't Worry Now"

Commissioner Lake Lytal Monday outlined the Palm Beach county commission's intentions to continue to fight to prevent the county's needy elderly home owners from losing public assistance benefits because of increased property valuations in the county.

He did so in reporting on results of a conference with the State Welfare Board in Tallahassee last week, a title that was authorized by the commission to seek the state agency's aid in securing older property owners who are on the assistance rolls.

A regulation of the Welfare Board prohibits public assistance to aged persons whose homes are assessed at more than $5,000. Under the county's new assessment program, properties are being assessed at their full value, thus threatening to disqualify virtually all of the elderly home owners now receiving benefits.

Lital reported that the Welfare Board has agreed to fare board recognizes the problem in this county, but that he doesn't know what it will do about it.

He advises those persons threatened with the loss of benefits, "not to work too much for the present."

"We hope that legal means can be derived through special legislation to protect our needy old people," he said for the commission.

"We have time to try to work something out and we're doing everything we can to find a solution."

Upon his arrival at Fort Jackson, he was initially assigned to the US Army Personnel Center where he was issued his clothing given a complete physical examination and a comprehensive battery of aptitude tests to determine the Army duty assignment for which he will best be fitted.

During his basic training, he will be taught to fire the M-1 rifle. Also included in his training will be instruction in such subjects as first aid, personal hygiene, military justice and physical training.

Upon completion of his basic training he will receive advance military training. For a number of years one of the country's largest Infantry Training Centers and also conducts a program of training for men under the Reserve Forces Act of 1955.

Brothers Charged In Shooting Here

Two Negro men will face charges of assault with intent to kill and aiding and abetting the former charge when they appear in criminal court following a shooting incident in front of Kentucky Springs Bar and Package Store on 5th St. here Friday night.

Sgt. Louis Lowery and Police Chief Charles Goodrich released the following information: J. H. Hynes, about 19 years old from Mississippi, was making forward remarks to Mattie Faust in front of the store while his brother, R. C. Hynes stood close by.

No sooner had Mattie told Hynes she was married, her husband appeared and ordered J. H. to leave his wife alone. J. H. drew a 22 calibre German type pistol and fired hitting the husband, Harry Faust, in the shoulder and a bystander, Edward Peterson, in the neck. He was reported improving at Belle Glade Memorial hospital.

Unable to learn of the Hynes brothers' whereabouts, Patrolman Theo York remembered a man answering J. H.'s description had been involved in a cutting incident about six months ago. This information led police to an apartment house on 10th St. where R. C. Hynes was apprehended. He denied knowing about his brother; however, J. H. was discovered hiding in a truck in a nearby field.

They were turned over to county authorities for prosecution. Lowery said.

COUNTY'S FINANCIAL ASSETS GAIN GREATER THAN STATE OR NATIONAL

Financial assets of the people of Palm Beach County are now at an all-time high level of more than $355 million dollars, according to reports of resources of its banks and savings and loan associations as of June 30.

Statistics compiled by the research department of the Palm Beach County Resources Development Board reveal an increase of 11.7% in resources of the combined financial institutions, and a gain of 11.6% in savings and deposits, according to RDB Manager Lamar Allen.

The gain during the past 12 months in Palm Beach County, Allen said, is in direct contrast with national figures which reported a gain of 1.3% in national bank assets.

"The stability and steady growth of Palm Beach County's economy is certainly proved by these financial gains, and it is particularly significant in the face of the national picture," President Henry J. Delburn declared. "If any of our industrial or commercial growth is further proof of the county's continued growth, they can ask for no better evidences than this."

The 14 banks and six savings and loan associations covered by our research department's report reflect all phases of the county's economy and I believe it is worthy of special note that the total resources are 6.1% higher on the June 30 report than on December 31.

The current report shows that the county's funds while the December report must have included considerable total resources.

"The gains on a county-wide basis in the nine years since 1950, showing more than 200% in total resources, are also significant," Delburn said. "While the 12-month increase of 11.7% is the lowest gain in the past four years, it is only slightly below the 15% shown in 1956-57, and I believe this is somewhat surprising in view of all the cold weather talk and its theoretical effect on the tourist and agricultural resources."

The RDB research department reported the Palm Beach County gains were relatively higher than the 10% reported during the same period in Dade County. On a national basis the controller of the currency reported a loss of 1% for 4,622 national banks during the first quarter of 1958 while the combined totals in Palm Beach County for the same period showed a gain of 5.2%.

The June 30 statements show total bank resources of $247,346,553; Federal savings and loan associations $108,503,419 and a combined total of $355,850,473.

This column is for Herald readers to express their opinions on questions of the day. They are not necessarily the opinions of this paper.

Dear Mr. Jones:
Dr. W. T. Forsee, Jr., has sent me a copy of your article on Dr. Tom Breger taken from the July 17, 1958 issue of the Herald.

I very much appreciate your tribute to Dr. Breger. He has certainly been a fine and productive member of our research team in the Everglades and is hard to replace on our staff.

In addition, I want to thank you for the kind words which you had to say about our agricultural research program generally and the value of it to Florida's agriculture. I will hope that you never have cause to change your opinion on this point.

Sincerely,
Joe Beckenbach
Director

Dear Mr. Jones:
Officials of the Palm Beach County Public School Summer Enrichment Program wish to extend their thanks to everyone who has in some way contributed to the success of the program this summer. We especially want to commend the staff of the Belle Glade Herald for their coverage of news concerning this program.

It is almost impossible to list the many organizations and individuals who have given their time and efforts to aid in providing wholesome summer experiences for the children in our county. Without their generous help and splendid cooperation the program could not have been so successful. We are grateful to everyone who has helped in some way and appreciate the opportunity to express our thanks through your paper.

Final reports indicate that this summer's Public Schools program has been the largest of its kind in the ten years of operation in Palm Beach County. It is our hope that parents will again utilize the services that are provided for their children next summer.

Sincerely,
Charles M. Wilson
L. Jack Smith
Coordinators of the Summer Program

Dear Luther:
All of us, Don, Joe, Betty, Frank and I, want to thank the people in Belle Glade for being so good to us.

It's not easy to leave such wonderful people and wonderful friends, but such a close association for so many years.

We are nicely settled in West Palm Beach and are looking forward to starting a new school but would like for you all to come to see us.

Our new address is: 7114 Venetian Way, Lake Clarke Shores, West Palm Beach.

Sincerely,
Lobby and Frank Hobson

Jones Attends Institute Course

Leslie Jones, Manager of the Credit Bureau of the Everglades, will be attending the Southeastern Management Institute at the University of North Carolina, during the week of August 19-25, for a short course in Credit Bureau, Collection Service and Merchants' Association Management.

The Southeastern Management Institute, now in its twelfth year, conducts a series of studies on how to promote and control the sound extension of credit, how to aid debtors to rehabilitate their credit, where it has been impaired for reasons beyond their control, as well as modern management methods for assisting business and professional men in their credit work.

Realizing that sound credit is the basis of our country's continued prosperity and is necessary to guarantee full employment and high standards of living, a minimum course of four summer institutes has been set up by the university in cooperation with the Associated Credit Bureaus of America and its affiliated state and national members in the Southeast.

Upon satisfactory completion of this course of study, a certificate of recognition is given to the student by the University and the Institute.

He who has conquered doubt and fear has conquered failure.

How Long Did It Take You To Court Your Wife?

Did you just happen to see her, walk up to her, ask her to marry you, call in the minister, right on the spot?

PERHAPS NOT — it probably took a lot of calls, and trips, movies, flowers, candies, and a lot of putting-your-best-foot-forward tactics. You had to sell your self. She had to know all about you.

IT'S THE SAME WITH ADVERTISING . . . you can't "woo" customers with one Ad . . . you've got to "Call On Them" over a period of time . . . you've got to win their confidence and be convincing.

CONSISTENT ADVERTISING wins the customers if it's truthful, if it gives helpful information, if it saves shopping steps, if it's backed up with intelligent, courteous service and honest values.

Casualty Close

We left the camp near Baltimore early, very early! That is a very bad habit my parents have. We drove to Gettysburg, Pa. by lunch time. There we stopped to get a guide to ride around the battle area with us.

The Civil War battle that took place there had lasted 3 days - July 1, 2, and 3, 1863. The guide showed us where the fighting took place and told us many interesting stories about the battle.

We saw the place where Lincoln delivered his Gettysburg Address. The most interesting monument was the Eternal Light Peace Memorial. It has a tall shaft in the center on top of which is a torch that burns day and night symbolizing peace.

After leaving Gettysburg we drove to Mountain View, N.J. where we planned to spend two days, two weeks next to an aunt and uncle of mine. It's a very pretty place - the Passaic River runs by just in front of us, and the trees are so lovely.

We can reach New York City in about 14 hours from here. Most of the time we park in a parking lot near the Lincoln Tunnel and ride the bus over to the city. The bus terminal in NYC is a tremendous place. It is 3 stories high and is like a city in itself.

The lower two levels have many stores, doctor's offices waiting rooms, ticket offices, etc. The upper level is where the buses come in and leave, and then on the roof, is a huge parking lot for cars. There are many escalators in the building which can be regulated to go either up or down, whichever way the majority of people are going. We were in the bus terminal many times at various times of the day and there were always a large number of people going somewhere. And at the rear hours it's fantastic the number of people you see. Incidentally, the cost of the terminal was 24 million dollars.

On our first day in NYC we walked up past Times Square to the group of buildings known as Rockefeller Center. There we took a tour of the NBC radio and television studios. We saw them rehearsing for a radio broadcast and saw several television studios. The most interesting was the demonstration of sound effects. We also had an opportunity to see ourselves on television. From there we went to Radio City Music Hall where we saw a movie and a stage show that was really fabulous. There was a symphony orchestra that played several selections that were lovely. The world famous Rockettes danced and were just wonderful.

The next day we took a trip around the island of Manhattan by boat. It was a very pleasant trip. We saw the Hudson River, past the statue of Liberty, through the East River, Harlem River, and back to the Hudson again, under the

George Washington Bridge, and back to where we started. The day we took the trip there were many big ocean liners in the harbor, the American Constitution, and others. Ex-president Harry Truman had just arrived in NYC that day aboard the Constitution. And our guide told us that Mr. Herbert Hoover was also in the city. He also pointed out the hospital where movie actress Suzy Parker is.

In contrast to our trips to the city we went with our folks up to Bear Mountain one day. The drive is along the Hudson River through Harriman Park which stretches for miles and miles, and the scenery is perfectly beautiful. We stopped at the Bear Mountain Inn for dinner. The Inn is very picturesque. It is made of logs, and so is all the furniture. Outside there is a park, skating rink, picnic tables, and the ski jump that is so popular in the winter time up here. Then we drove up a few more miles to West Point Military Academy. We drove all through the campus and watched the boys playing various games. It really is a big school. I never saw so many boys in all my life. I was all for staying and I assure you I left very reluctantly. We came back by the Seven Lakes Drive. It was in the evening and we saw several wild deer in the woods by the road.

had just arrived in NYC that day aboard the Constitution. And our guide told us that Mr. Herbert Hoover was also in the city. He also pointed out the hospital where movie actress Suzy Parker is.

In contrast to our trips to the city we went with our folks up to Bear Mountain one day. The drive is along the Hudson River through Harriman Park which stretches for miles and miles, and the scenery is perfectly beautiful. We stopped at the Bear Mountain Inn for dinner. The Inn is very picturesque. It is made of logs, and so is all the furniture. Outside there is a park, skating rink, picnic tables, and the ski jump that is so popular in the winter time up here. Then we drove up a few more miles to West Point Military Academy. We drove all through the campus and watched the boys playing various games. It really is a big school. I never saw so many boys in all my life. I was all for staying and I assure you I left very reluctantly. We came back by the Seven Lakes Drive. It was in the evening and we saw several wild deer in the woods by the road.

Ground Breaking For Girl Scout Camp Dampened By Thunderstorm

Ground breaking ceremonies were held Sunday for the new Girl Scout camp to be built near Jupiter. Scout officials including a number of those from Belle Glade were on hand for the rain-soaked ritual.

Among those attending were Robert Allen, member-at-large of the board of directors of the Palm-Glades Girl Scout Council; Mrs. Allen neighborhood chairman, Allen's mother-in-law, Mrs. C. H. Allery, Amherst, Mass. Julian Griggs and daughter, Anita, Mr. and Mrs. Ben McGee and three children and Mrs. Elmer Sourlock. Mrs. Sourlock and Mrs. McGee are scout leaders for our area.

The flag-raising ceremony was punctuated with a clap of thunder; however, "Scout spirit" prevailed and the remainder of the program was continued in the rain.

Dr. Allen allowed that the rain was a favorable factor, but Mrs. Allen neighborhood chairman, Allen's mother-in-law, Mrs. C. H. Allery, Amherst, Mass. Julian Griggs and daughter, Anita, Mr. and Mrs. Ben McGee and three children and

The new camp will have facilities for 125-150 girls per session. Present facilities accommodate only 96 girls. The area is a plot of ground for the camp is adjacent to a like-sized section for the Boy Scout camp at the south edge of the state plot.

The flag ceremony was conducted by the summer camp staff of Marjorie Davis, followed by singing of Girl Scout songs — in the rain.

Service Is Prominent In Elks' Activities

"The Elks, known in the past principally as a social club, are fast becoming more civic minded and approaching the works of other service clubs," Exalted Ruler George McKee reported to local Lodge No. 1716, upon his return from the national convention in New York. Mrs. McKee accompanied her husband to the convention.

"We were told," he continued, "that, like the local Club, Elks over the country participate in youth activities, including children, Boy and Girl Scouts, and Little League."

"Our organization has assisted 1,500,000 children at a cost of some $3,000,000 and has provided entertainment and cigarettes to disabled veterans in 165 Veterans Hospitals."

"Scholarships for boys and girls are given each year valued at $1200 each for four years; $70,000 to charity alone and $40,000 in educational awards have been part of budgets."

The Elks Convention voted that in event war, each Elks member will be assessed $100 which would amount to $1,225,000 to be given to the Government toward the war effort.

In New York social activities were provided for the ladies of the convention, and hospitality books included admission to the latest shows such as the Rockefeller at Radio City and shopping tours.

The McKees enjoyed the stay at the Statler along with other Florida conventioners.

Local Police Officers Complete Night School

Lieutenant Verne Clark is among nine of Belle Glade's police force to complete a 40-hour course of instruction by Florida's Department of Education, which is designed to better prepare our peace officers for their duties and to upgrade them in efficiency.

Chief Marvin Davis of South Bay also received a certificate, as did eight men from the State Prison Farm also received certificates.

Two of Pahokee's men were among the successful ones, as were two of our Glades Highway Patrolmen also. State Coordinator and Instructor A. C. Hostetter were present at the banquet and presentation of certificates Friday afternoon at Bell's Restaurant.

Florida's Police Officers Academy has been conducting these classes throughout the state without cost to the pupils, and classes are arranged so that no loss of time is involved for those attending.

Local officers receiving certificates are in addition to Lieut. Clark, Louis Lowrey, Bill Mathews, George Farrell, Raymond Trammell, Thos. York, Arthur Fadden, Bruno Bank, Felix Sainor, James Jackson and Gene Kemp.

Elks Teen Center

BY GEORGINA MILLS

Hi, Kids! Well, we sure had a grand time at the Elks teen center last Thursday night. There were kids there from everywhere. Some from Moore Haven, Fla., some from Ft. Lauderdale, and some from Ft. Pierce. Some of her friends looked real cute in her Bermuda shorts.

Jeannette Bass sure did look pretty in her brown dress. She danced almost every record. She and Morgan Tyson did slow dance together. Eddie Lively has been improving his dancing all along and can never cut a rug.

Mary Ann Tillery has a real cute girl visiting her by the name of Kay Elberry. She had on a real pretty pink dress, and seemed to have all its boys in a tizzy.

The pool tables were loaded as usual and the boys are becoming champs. Not much of a fight between Lorette Driggers and Pat Goldwin are here visiting in the Glades.

Looking pretty but never. Billy Puckett and Pat seemed to be getting along well together.

Let's see more of you kids turning out for the teen center this Thursday night.

Unlicensed Solicitors Sent On Their Ways

A house-to-house solicitor from out of town was reported to the Chamber of Commerce and he was dispatched on his way.

Another one seeking information concerning neighbors was told by the City Police he was coming and he should be investigated.

Anyone not having Chamber of Commerce okay or a license to do business should be reported to the Chamber of Commerce immediately and I. L. Price will find out pronto why.

Bids On Industrial Shop Will Be Opened

County School Board Chairman Henry O. Earwood announced this week that bids will be opened Friday at West Palm Beach for an industrial shop addition to Belle Glade High School which will cost approximately $35,000.

The building, about 36 by 70 feet in size, will be built on high school campus replacing the old wooden building at the rear of the elementary school grounds which has been used heretofore.

The wooden building will be used for elementary over-flow next term.

Is This Fair?

News stories are about that the County Commission has okayed its own proposal to attend the National Association of County Commissioners at Portland, Oregon sometime soon, as a body.

As long as two of the Commissioners are running for reelection and both have Democratic opponents, would it be better to the taxpayers who will foot the bill, to invite the two outside contestants to go along so that in case one or both of them are elected, the taxpayers will reap the benefit of whatever knowledge is gained at such convention?

We're in favor of the trip for the Commission, for we know a new way of ideas and brands, and a discussion of similar problems sometimes lead to worthwhile results. We're in favor of conventions, for any particular reason.
